EXPERIENCE

Chromatic

Engineering Team Lead • Remote • 2019-present

Owned engineering and client delivery SOPs and custom strategies across critical agency accounts. Resulted in retaining 5 accounts marked "high-risk," and increasing agency revenue by 440% in one year alone. Managed the iterative optimization and compliance of enterprise-level, user-facing digital platforms, and the agency's privacy stance.

- Led cross-functional, cross-agency Agile teams in building, maintaining, and optimizing enterprise-level Drupal sites according to partner and industry accessibility, security, privacy, and technical quality requirements.
- Led the definition and mapping of system architecture, code quality, performance optimization, and scalability requirements.
- Oversaw DevSecOps practices including CI/CD pipelines, automated testing, and secure deployments.
- Led biweekly and monthly Agile sprint ceremonies including: requirements gathering, sprint planning, reviews, and retros.
- Expanded single-service engagements into full-service partnerships by aligning with client executive leadership and identifying business-critical growth opportunities — resulting in a 100% success rate of both new retainers and renewals after technical remediations.
- Partnered closely with client stakeholders to help them become confident, effective owners of their Drupal platforms within their organizations.
- Charted courses for the Drupal marketing platform of a $7B-valuated global healthcare security organization through multiple acquisitions, guiding content strategy and platform evolution across major migration and re-platforming initiatives. Led product direction spanning security and privacy posture, regionalization and translation, and UX/UI/performance optimizations with a team consisting of both Chromatic and client engineers. Read the case study ↗
- Owned end-to-end development of proposal responses, partnering across teams, and delivering executive-ready submissions for agency-originated RFPs.
- Mentored and managed the growth of mid-level and senior engineers as Engineering Manager.
- Maintained technical documentation, release notes, and repositories for Drupal and static sites/apps.

Third & Grove

Design Lead • Remote • 2015-18

Recruited, trained, and mentored 8 designers in the new practice and through behavior- and data-driven design processes; refining the training to a maximum of one month (for entry-level digital designers), adjacent to regular IC duties. Analyzed, developed, and pitched UX/UI experiences with supporting journey maps, user flows, and design systems.

- Led the redesign and iterative UX/UI optimization of SunPower's digital properties, resulting in a doubling of the lead generation statistics via their Drupal platform and increasing brand goodwill with partner and reseller relationships. Read the case study ↗
- Led the redesign and iterative UX/UI optimization of Draper's digital brand and Drupal platform, resulting in massive increases in user flow to key pages and an average increase of page use/interaction by 124%. Read the case study ↗

Swedish News

Creative Director • NYC and Remote • 2006-15

Executed the content and UX strategy, and visual design of the three core web platforms for marketing and community content contributions: nordicreach.com, nordstjernan.com, and xoxosweden.com.

- Orchestrated the creative direction and ideation of countless digital projects from a Volvo-partnered Swedish culture map app to exhibition kiosks of one-off New York City events. Read the case study ↗

> "What makes Dan special isn't his keen design eye, his attention to detail, or his engineering prowess. You will find loads of folks that have all three...and Dan is indeed among the best I've seen.
>
> No. What makes Dan so special is his ability to understand people. His sensitivity in this regard is his super power. He picks up on things others simply miss. He sees the forest through the trees, while keeping his projects and teams moving in the right direction. His sensitivity to others makes all the difference.
>
> I never once had to worry about the assignments I gave him, no matter how big and ambitious they might've been. Dan always delivered. That he'd do it while making you smile, well that was the just icing on the cake."
