

Chromatic

Tech Lead + Account Manager • Remote • 2019–present

Owned engineering and client delivery SOPs and custom strategies across critical agency accounts. Resulted in retaining 5 accounts marked “high-risk,” and increasing agency revenue by 440% in one year alone. Managed the iterative optimization and compliance of enterprise-level, user-facing digital platforms, and the agency’s privacy stance.

- Led cross-functional, cross-agency Agile teams in building, maintaining, and optimizing enterprise-level Drupal sites according to partner and industry accessibility, security, privacy, and technical quality requirements.
- Led the definition and mapping of system architecture, code quality, performance optimization, and scalability requirements.
- Oversaw DevSecOps practices including CI/CD pipelines, automated testing, and secure deployments.
- Led biweekly and monthly Agile sprint ceremonies including: requirements gathering, sprint planning, reviews, and retros.
- Expanded single-service engagements into full-service partnerships by aligning with client executive leadership and identifying business-critical growth opportunities — resulting in a 100% success rate of both new retainers and renewals after technical remediations.
- Partnered closely with client stakeholders to help them become confident, effective owners of their products/platforms within their organizations.
- Charted courses for the Drupal marketing platform of a $7B-valuated global healthcare security organization through multiple acquisitions, guiding content strategy and platform evolution across major migration and re-platforming initiatives. Led product direction spanning security and privacy posture, regionalization and translation, and UX/UI/performance optimizations with a team consisting of both Chromatic and client engineers. Read the case study ↗
- Owned end-to-end development of proposal responses, partnering across teams, and delivering executive-ready submissions for agency-originated RFPs.
- Mentored and managed the growth of mid-level and senior engineers.
- Managed and maintained technical documentation, release notes, and repositories for applications, CMS, and static sites.

Third & Grove

Design Lead • Remote • 2015–18

Recruited, trained, and mentored 8 designers in the new practice and through behavior- and data-driven design processes; refining the training to a maximum of one month (for entry-level digital designers), adjacent to regular IC duties. Analyzed, developed, and pitched UX/UI experiences with supporting journey maps, user flows, and design systems.

- Led the redesign and iterative UX/UI optimization of SunPower’s digital properties, resulting in a doubling of the lead generation statistics via their Drupal platform and increasing brand goodwill with partner and reseller relationships. Read the case study ↗
- Led the redesign and iterative UX/UI optimization of Draper’s digital brand and Drupal platform, resulting in massive increases in user flow to key pages and an average increase of page use/interaction by 124%. Read the case study ↗

"Dan is the most exceptional Team Lead I've had the privilege of working with. Not only were they equally invested in project management priorities and practices, they worked hard to ensure our processes were effectively executed on by our engineering team. (Their retros are the best after mine!) Whenever our project load exceeded our team's capacity, I could trust that projects Dan managed would go as smoothly as those my team managed."

Lina Calin • Project Management Consultant

"Dan is an astoundingly talented, enthusiastic, and humble designer. When I first met them they already had a lot of experience under their belt. What truly impressed me was their hunger for knowledge on how their designs were implemented or what new tech could be used to enhance their designs. It's this type of collaboration that pushes projects to the next level."

James Mejia • Frontend Engineer • Bixal

"Dan's humility and transparency combined with their technical and design expertise are the ingredients to a secret sauce that elevates any team."

Larry Walangitan • Engineering Manager • Gen
